

Nomadics Custom Artwork - Agreement

We are excited to create custom artwork for you on your tipi. As with all art commissions, it is important that both parties communicate clearly about their ideas, expectations and limitations. Please acknowledge our procedure checklist and our disclaimer, and let us know if you have questions or concerns:

Procedure Checklist:

- You discuss your ideas with our Office Team and send us related images via email to nomadics@tipi.com
- Our Office Team will ask specific questions about your custom art idea to gather information for your custom quote.
- Please provide a budget max. It will help the artist determine to what extent we may need to simplify your images.
- You can choose to use any of the colors from our color palettes in any combination you would like. We are also happy to mix up custom colors for you. If you need a precise color - we request that you pick that color from the available palette of one of our paint providers, Miller Paint or Sherwin Williams.
- If we incorporate some of our existing designs, they are less expensive than custom work, but they are drawn with patterns in specific sizes only.
- Artwork on a tipi is painting on an asymmetrical cone - proportions differ, please keep this in mind when designing your tipi.
- You agree on what is most important to you and where you will allow the artist room for interpretation

Our Office Team will relate everything to the artist, then the artist comes back with an estimate. If you agree to the estimate, that is the amount you will pay for the artwork, unless you make changes.

Art Consultation Fees:

There is no charge when discussing your art ideas with the Office Team. If you would like to discuss specifics with the artist, the following fees apply. These fees will need to be paid upfront, they are not part of the artwork quote and they are non-refundable.

- $35 - Initial Consultation, $35/hr for any longer communication with the artist.
- $100 - Mock-up, rough pencil sketch. Includes few small changes.
- $50 - Change fee - Once your art is confirmed, every change has a change fee.

Nomadics Custom Artwork - Disclaimer

Custom artwork is not refundable.

If you cancel your custom art or tipi order after we have started to paint it, we will refund the cost of the canvas only, with a 10% cancellation fee. Unopened tipis and accessories can be returned at the cost of the customer, and are subject to a 10% restocking fee. All painted items will be reimbursed at the unpainted item price only and are subject to the 10% restocking fee. All artwork is non-refundable.

If you have rejected the artwork as unacceptable, then we are unable to fulfill your artistic expectations, and although we always do our very best to create what you envision, we will not try a second time.

Tipi Care

Tipi art is artwork on a canvas that is exposed to the elements. Please take into consideration that your canvas could get dirty, form mold spots or be impacted by harsh UV radiation. When spending money on artwork on a tipi cover that is exposed to the elements, please acknowledge that the art will fade over time, or the canvas itself might get brittle, tear, rot or disintegrate. Artwork on a liner will typically last longer than artwork on a cover. To prolong the lifespan of your canvas, please be sure to read 'Care of your Tipi' and treat your canvas with a protective finish once a year.

Please acknowledge and accept the terms stated above by emailing your consent.
